Heard the learned counsel for the parties and perused the record. 3. There is delay of more than 27 years in filing of this Original Application. However, delay condonation application has been filed by the applicant explaining the delay. He further submits that in the matter of pension, there would be no delay as the cause of action is recurring in nature and as such no plea of limitation would come into play. 4. Learned counsel appearing on behalf of respondents has filed Objection against delay condonation application saying that there has been delay for more than 27 years and further the grounds so offered by the applicant in delay condonation application are not convincing and as such the delay condonation application is liable to be rejected. 5. Considering the submissions made on behalf of the rival of the parties and facts and circumstances of the case, we are of the view that it is just and proper to decide the delay condonation application and objection to it moved by the respondents at the time of final disposal of the O.A.
