ORDER

“Per Hon’ble Mr. Justice Umesh Chandra Srivastava, Member (J)”

1. The instant Original Application has been filed by the applicant under Section 14 of the Armed Forces Tribunal Act, 2007 with the following prayers:-

- (A) To quash or set aside the Respondents letters dated 26.07.2012 & 26.03.2010 (Annexure A-1 & A-2 respectively of OA).
- (B) To issue order or directions to the respondents to grant disability pension to the applicant for the disability he had, with effect from 01.01.2010 (Date of discharge : 31.12.2009) with all consequential benefits including rounding off benefit from 60% to 75% in terms of Govt of India letter dated 31 Jan 2001 and Judgment passed by Hon’ble Apex Court in case of Ram Avatar Vs UoI & Others.
- (C) Any other relief as considered proper by the Hon’ble Tribunal be awarded in favour of the applicant.

2. Facts giving rise to Original Application in brief are that applicant was enrolled in Indian Air Force on 22.12.1986 and was discharged from service on 31.12.2009 in low medical category on completion of terms of enrollment. On 11.08.1989 applicant sustained injuries by train accident during crossing of railway line, while returning from Pathankot Railway Station to his Camp (18 Wing Air Force, Pathankot), after seeing off his entry mate 707183 Sgt. R.S. Prasad, which after investigation was found to be a case of (i) “FRACTURE (RT) CLAVICLE” (ii) ‘FRACTURE FEMURE (LT)’ and (iii) ‘BELOW KNEE AMPUTATION (RT)’. During subsequent review he was upgraded to medical category AYE for (i) and (ii) injuries but placed in low medical category CEE (P) for (iii) injury i.e. ‘BELOW KNEE

AMPUTATION (RT)'. Before being discharged from service, Release Medical Board (RMB) was held on 24.03.2009 in which applicant was found suffering with 60% disability for life. RMB has left the decision on attributability/aggravation aspect as "to be decided by competent admin authority' (Reason : as per injury report dated 21 August 1989). On Adjudication, AFRO has recommended disability as neither attributable to nor aggravated by service. Despite being discharged in low medical category, disability pension was denied to applicant on the reason that his disability was neither attributable to nor aggravated by Air Force service vide letter dated 12.05.2009 which was communicated to the applicant vide letter dated 15.05.2009. The applicant preferred First Appeal and Second Appeal which too were rejected by the respondents vide letters dated 26.03.2010 and 26.07.2012 respectively. It is in this perspective that the applicant has preferred the present Original Application.

3. Learned counsel for the applicant submitted that applicant was injured while returning from Pathankot Railway Station to his Camp (18 Wing Air Force, Pathankot) where he was posted, after seeing off his entry mate 707183 Sgt. R.S. Prasad, which is to be treated on duty when he sustained injury, which ultimately resulted into 60% disability for life, because of 'BELOW KNEE AMPUTATION (RT)'. The applicant was admitted in 167 Military Hospital, Pathankot within two hours of accident. Applicant's right leg (which did not get crush or get cut at the railway track) got infected in the hospital within two – three days and developed gangrene. Applicant's right leg was amputated after seven days of his accident on 18.08.1989 which was due to negligence of Military Hospital. He submitted that various Benches of AFT, Hon'ble High Courts and the Hon'ble Apex Court, in the matter of disability, has held that if an armed forces personnel suffers with disability during the course of service, which was never reported earlier when he/she was enrolled/recruited in the Air Force, the said disability would be treated to be attributable to or aggravated by Air Force service and he/she shall be entitled to the disability pension for the same. Thus, he submitted that applicant's case being fully covered with above, as he also suffered injury while on duty and same being not reported earlier at the time of his enrolment, he is entitled to disability pension..

4. Per contra, learned counsel for the respondents submitted that it is not disputed that when sustained injury resulting in disability, as held in report dated 24.03.2009 of the Release Board Proceedings, applicant met with a train accident during crossing of railway line, while returning from Pathankot Railway Station to his Camp (18 Wing Air Force, Pathankot) where he was posted, which is to be treated on duty. However, for grant of the disability pension it is not only required that armed Forces personnel should be on duty, but there must be some causal connection also between the injury and Air Force service. He further submitted that unless injury sustained has causal connection with Air Force service, armed forces personnel cannot be allowed disability pension merely on the reason of being on duty or disability was not reported/detected while being enrolled or commissioned. He further submitted that in the given facts, applicant being injured on his right leg while returning from Pathankot Railway Station to his Camp (18 Wing Air Force, Pathankot) met with a train accident during crossing of railway line, there was no causal connection between the injury sustained and Air Force service and, therefore, applicant is not entitled to disability pension, as he is claiming. In support, learned counsel for the respondents has placed reliance on the following case laws of the Hon'ble Apex Court:-

- (a) Renu Devi v Union of India and others, Decided on July 03. 2019 in Special Appeal arising out of Diary No. C-37356 of 2017.
- (b) Vijay Kumar v. Union of India, 2016 SCC 460.
- (c) The Secretary Govt of India & Others v. Dharamvir Singh Decided on 20, September 2019 in Civil Appeal No 4981 of 2012.

5. We have heard Shri Virat Anand Singh and Shri Ashish Kumar Singh, learned counsel for the applicant and Dr. Shailendra Sharma Atal, learned counsel for the respondents and have also perused the record.

6. After having heard the submissions of learned counsel of both sides we found that there are certain facts admitted to both the parties, i.e., applicant was enrolled in the Air Force on 22.12.1986 and discharged from service on 31.12.2009 (AN) on completion of terms of engagement, he sustained injury/met with an accident during crossing of railway line while returning from Pathankot Railway Station to his Camp (18 Wing Air Force Station, Pathankot) where he was posted and placed in low medical category for the disability 'BELOW KNEE AMPUTATION (RT)' vide AFMSF-16 dated 24.03.2009 and his disability was assessed at 60% for life, the disability claim of the applicant was rejected on 12.05.2009. Applicant's First and Second Appeal were rejected on 26.03.2010 and 26.07.2012 respectively. Learned counsel for the respondents has also conceded, during the course of hearing, that when applicant sustained injury resulting into disability, he may be treated on duty.

7. The respondents have denied disability pension to the applicant on the reason that for getting disability pension, in respect of injury sustained during the course of employment, there must be some causal connection between the disability and Air Force service, and this being lacking in applicant's case, as there was no causal connection between the disability and Air Force service, he is not entitled for the same.

8. This question has been considered time and again not only by the various Benches of AFT but by the Hon'ble High Courts and the Hon'ble Apex Court. In a more or less similar matter, Secretary, Govt of India & Others Vs. Dharamveer Singh, decided on 20 September 2019, in Civil Appeal No 4981 of 2012, the facts of the case were that respondent of that case met with an accident during the leave period, while riding a scooter and suffered head injury with 'Faciomaxillary and Compound Fracture 1/3 Femur (LT)'. A Court of enquiry was conducted in that matter to investigate into the circumstances under which the respondent sustained injuries. The Brigade Commander gave Report, dated August 18, 1999 to the effect that injuries, occurred in peace area, were attributable to military service. One of the findings of the report recorded under Column 3 (c) was that "No one was to be blamed for the accident. In fact respondent lost control of his own scooter". In this case the respondent was discharged from service after rendering pensionable service of 17 years and 225 days. In pursuance to report of the Medical Board dated November 29, 1999, which held his disability to be 30%, the claim for disability pension was rejected by the Medical Board on the ground that the disability was neither attributable to nor aggravated by military service. An appeal filed by the respondent against the rejection of his claim for the disability pension was rejected by the Additional Directorate General, Personnel Services. Respondent then filed an O.A. in Armed Forces Tribunal against the order of denial of disability pension which after relying upon the judgment of Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Madan Singh Shekhawat v. Union of India & Ors, (1999) 6 SSC 459 was allowed by the Tribunal holding that respondent was entitled to disability pension. Aggrieved by the same, this Civil Appeal was filed in which the Hon'ble Apex Court framed following 3 points for consideration:-

(a) Whether, when Armed Forces Personnel proceeds on casual leave or annual leave or leave of any kind, he is to be treated on duty?.

(b) Whether the injury or death caused if any, the armed forces personnel is on duty, has to have some causal connection with military service so as to hold that such injury or death is either attributable to or aggravated by military service?.

(c) What is the effect and purpose of Court of Inquiry into an injury suffered by armed forces personnel?.

9. The Hon'ble Apex Court decided the question number 1 in affirmative holding that when armed forces personnel is availing casual leave or annual leave, is to be treated on duty.

10. While deciding the second question the Hon'ble Apex Court in para 20 of the judgment held as under:-

“ In view of Regulations 423 clauses (a) , (b), there has to be causal connection between the injury or death caused by the military service. The determining factor is a causal connection between the accident and the military duties. The injury be connected with military service howsoever remote it may be. The injury or death must be connected with military service. The injury or death must be intervention of armed forces service and not an accident which could be attributed to risk common to human being. When a person is going on a scooter to purchase house hold articles, such activity, even remotely, has no causal connection with the military service”.

11. Regarding question number 3, the Hon’ble Apex Court held that if a causal connection has not been found between the disabilities and military service, applicant would not be entitled to the disability pension. While deciding this issue, the Hon’ble Apex Court has discussed several cases decided by itself as well as the various Benches of the Armed Forces Tribunal and the High Courts and has held that when armed forces personnel suffers injury while returning from or going to leave, it shall be treated to have causal connection with military service and, for such injury, resulting in disability, the injury would be considered attributable to or aggravated by military service.

12. The Hon’ble Apex Court while summing up took note of following guiding factors by the Armed Forces Tribunal, Regional Bench, Chandigarh, in the case of Jagtar Singh v. Union of India & Ors, Decided on November 02, 2020 in TA No 61 of 2010 approved in the case of Sukhwant Singh and Vijay Kumar case, and held that they do not warrant any modification and the claim of disability pension is required to be dealt with accordingly. Those guiding factors are reproduced below for reference:-

“(a) The mere fact of a person being on 'duty' or otherwise, at the place of posting or on leave, is not the sole criteria for deciding attributability of disability/death. There has to be a relevant and reasonable causal connection, howsoever remote, between the incident resulting in such disability/death and military service for it to be attributable. This conditionality applies even when a person is posted and present in his unit. It should similarly apply when he is on leave; notwithstanding both being considered as 'duty'.

(b) If the injury suffered by the member of the Armed Force is the result of an act alien to the sphere of military service or in no way be connected to his being on duty as understood in the sense contemplated by Rule 12 of the Entitlement Rules 1982, it would not be legislative intention or nor to our mind would be permissible approach to generalise the statement that every injury suffered during such period of leave would necessarily be attributable.

(c) The act, omission or commission which results in injury to the member of the force and consequent disability or fatality must relate to military service in some manner or the other, in other words, the act must flow as a matter of necessity from military service.

(d) A person doing some act at home, which even remotely does not fall within the scope of his duties and functions as a Member of Force, nor is remotely connected with the functions of military service, cannot be termed as injury or disability attributable to military service. An accident or injury suffered by a member of the Armed Force must have some casual connection with military service and at least should arise from such activity of the member of the force as he is expected to maintain or do in his day-to-day life as a member of the force.

(e) The hazards of Army service cannot be stretched to the extent of unlawful and entirely un-connected acts or omissions on the part of the member of the force even when he is on leave. A fine line of distinction has to be drawn between the matters connected, aggravated or attributable to military service, and the matter entirely alien to such service. What falls ex-facie in the domain of an entirely private act cannot be treated as legitimate basis for claiming the relief under these provisions. At best, the member of the force can claim disability pension if he suffers disability from an injury while on casual leave even if it arises from some negligence or misconduct on the part of the member of the force, so far it has some connection and nexus to the nature of the force. At least remote attributability to service would be the condition precedent to claim under Rules 173. The act of omission and commission on the part of the member of the force must satisfy the test of prudence, reasonableness and expected standards of behavior”.

(f) The disability should not be the result of an accident which could be attributed to risk common to human existence in modern conditions in India, unless such risk is enhanced in kind or degree by nature, conditions, obligations or incidents of military service.”

13. We have considered the applicant’s case in view of above guiding factors and we find that applicant while returning to his Camp (18 Wing Air Force Station, Pathankot) from Pathankot Railway Station, after seeing off his entry mate 707183 Sgt. R.S. Prasad, he met with an accident by train and sustained injury resulting into disability to the extent of 60% for life, on account of ‘BELOW KNEE AMPUTATION (RT)’. The activity of seeing off entry mate being not connected with Air Force service, there could be no causal connection between injury sustained and Air Force service and, therefore, applicant is not entitled to disability pension.

14. In the result, we hold that the claim of applicant’s disability pension has rightly been rejected by the respondents which needs no interference. Resultantly, Original Application is dismissed.

15. No order as to cost.
